Recent Developments & Outlook

Even though emerging markets equities fared better than the developed markets in the second quarter and also year-to-date, they did not escape the global downturn. In the last three months ending on June 30, the (cap.-weighted) MSCI EM Total Return Index (ND) declined 8.1 % in local currencies, 11.4 % in US dollars and 5.8 % in euros. The MSCI EM Index (December 1988 = 100) now stands at $ 1,629 and € 1,717, respectively. Four of the twenty four markets included in the MSCI EM Index advanced last quarter and twenty markets declined. Since China (+4.5 %), which carries a weight of 35 percent in the EM benchmark, was among the winners for the first time in several quarters, it does not come as a surprise that the average emerging market—as measured by our Equally Weighted EM Index—has performed worse than the more popular cap.-weighted index. Year-to-date, however, the KAM Equally Weighted Emerging Markets Index still beat the MSCI cap.-weighted EM Index by between 3.2 and 5.5 percentage points, depending on the currency. The euro finished the second quarter down 6.0 % at 1.0455 versus the US dollar and down 8.1 % compared with its level of 1.1372 at year-end 2021.

Among the three regions, Asia declined 6.3 % and Europe, Middle East, Africa (EMEA) lost 13.4 %, while Latin America gave up 15.7 % last quarter. Year-to-date, Asia lost 13.1 %, EMEA 21.6 % and Latin America 4.1 %. Performance is in local currencies unless mentioned otherwise.

Valuation History: Emerging Markets Compared with the Developed Markets

According to our analyses of the underlying fundamentals, the asset class emerging markets equities is now undervalued by 30 percent compared with the developed markets. As the chart shows, only rarely in its 34-year history—at its inception, in the late 1990s and in the early 2000s—was the undervaluation as pronounced as it is now. There were also several periods when the ratio was above one. In those times it was generally assumed that emerging markets equities deserve a valuation premium due to the higher expected growth rates of their fundamentals.

Last quarter, the Top Value Model Portfolio declined 9.7 % in local currencies, 15.7 % in US dollars and 10.3 % in euros. Year-to-date, it is down 9.8 % in local currencies, 16.7 % in US dollars and 9.4 % in euros. The Top Value Model Portfolio (December 1988 = 100) now stands at $ 28,047 and € 29,573, respectively. For details on the recent performance of national MSCI indices, benchmarks and strategies, please see page 6. There were no changes in our country ratings last quarter. The Top Value Model Portfolio continues to hold the nine markets Brazil, Chile, China, Korea, Malaysia, Mexico, Poland, Taiwan and Turkey at equal weights. According to our analyses, an equally weighted combination of these most attractively valued markets offers the highest expectation of long-term risk-adjusted performance.

High inflation, further tightening by the Federal Reserve and geopolitics are generally perceived as the main reasons for the declining stock prices in both the developed and in the emerging markets. So far, however, stock prices seem to be well supported by strong fundamentals—even though growth rates are now coming down due to the more challenging year-over-year comparisons. In the table below we show the annual percentage changes of the reported cash flows, earnings, dividends in local currencies and the total returns (ND) for the EM Top Value Model Portfolio and selected MSCI Indices in euros in the last twelve months:

12-Month Growth Rates as of June 30, 2022 (%)

| | Cashflow | Earnings | Dividends | TR (ND) |
|--------------------------------------|-------------|-------------|-------------|---------------|
| EM Top Value Model Portfolio | 45.3 | 68.6 | 47.1 | - 10.3 |
| MSCI Emerging Markets Index | 16.9 | 18.7 | 33.4 | - 5.8 |
| MSCI World Index (Developed Markets) | 26.0 | 43.4 | 18.4 | - 10.8 |
| MSCI EM Growth Index | 10.1 | 12.4 | 21.7 | - 6.4 |

The next table shows how the Emerging Markets Top Value Model Portfolio compares to three alternatives as of June 30, 2022 based on selected valuation and return measures:

| | Valuation Ratios | | | | Rates of Return (%) | |
|-------------------------------------|------------------|------------|------------|-------------|---------------------|-------------|
| | PBV | PCF | PE | DY | CFRoE | RoE |
| EM Top Value Model Portfolio | 1.34 | 5.4 | 8.2 | 4.56 | 24.7 | 16.4 |
| MSCI Emerging Markets Index | 1.66 | 8.5 | 12.5 | 3.09 | 19.4 | 13.2 |
| MSCI World Index (DM) | 2.70 | 11.7 | 17.0 | 2.21 | 23.1 | 15.9 |
| MSCI EM Growth Index | 3.15 | 12.7 | 20.0 | 1.62 | 24.9 | 15.8 |

As mentioned above, the asset class Emerging Markets Equities is now undervalued by 30 % compared to the MSCI World Index of the developed markets. Moreover, the Emerging Markets Top Value Model Portfolio is now undervalued by 31 % compared to the MSCI Emerging Markets (Standard) Index, by 52 % compared to the MSCI World Index of the developed markets (DM) and by 60 % compared to the MSCI EM Growth Index. This extreme undervaluation is not justified by the underlying fundamentals and therefore is expected to lead to a significant outperformance of the Top Value Model Portfolio in the next three to five years.

Charts

Total Return Index, Price Index & Relative Strength versus the MSCI EM Index

The indices are based on the monthly returns of each national market as reported by Morgan Stanley Capital International (MSCI) Perspective. Total return indices are calculated with net dividends reinvested. Relative strength versus the MSCI EM Index is defined as the specific regional, national or strategy total return index in U.S. dollars divided by the MSCI EM Index total return index in U.S. dollars. All indices are charted going back at least 84 months, and always rebased to 100 on the corresponding past December 31 (8 years back).

Absolute Valuation

Ratios are based on current price indices and reported 12-month trailing fundamentals.

- PBV (Price-to-book value ratio)
- PCE (Price-to-cash flow ratio)
- PE (Price-to-earnings ratio)
- PD (Price-to-dividends ratio)

Figures below 0.1 are not being charted.

Valuation Relative to the World

Regional, national and strategy valuation measures are expressed as factors of the valuation of the MSCI EM Index.

In the case of the "MSCI EM Index" (page 8) valuation measures relative to history (7-year average) are shown.

Figures below 0.1 are not being charted.

Annual Growth (%)

Growth is defined as the annual percentage growth rate of book value, cash earnings, earnings, and dividends.

Figures are purposely limited to the 120% / -50% range.

Foreign Exchange Rate

U.S. dollars denominated in local currency units.

Tables

Relative Price/Earnings, Rel. Price/Cash Flow, Rel. Price/Book Value Ratios and Rel. Dividend Yield

Annual and 12 MTD averages are expressed as the arithmetic average of 12 monthly observations for the specific series versus the corresponding series of the MSCI EM Index.

Index High/Average/Low

Each annual figure is based on 12 end-of-month observations.

Earnings, Cash Flow, Book Value, and Dividends per Index Unit

For the past, end-of-year numbers or 12-month-to-date (12 MTD) numbers are shown for each index unit.

Average Price/Earnings, Price/Cash Flow, Price/Book Value Ratios and Average Dividend Yield

Annual averages are expressed as the arithmetic average of 12 monthly observations.

Average Dividend Payout Ratio, Average Return on Equity, and Average Cash Flow Return on Equity

Annual averages are expressed as the arithmetic average of 12 monthly observations in percent.

Annual Earnings, Cash Flow, Book Value, and Dividend Growth

Annual numbers are calculated as the year-to-year rates of change in percent.

Average Annual Historic Growth (Last 3/5/10 Years)

Growth is defined as the arithmetic average of rolling one-year rates of change over the last 3, 5, and 10 years.

Quarterly Earnings/Cash Flow/Dividends per Index Unit:

Quarterly figures are based on the reported trailing 12-month history of all companies included in each national market index.

Foreign Exchange Rate and Market Capitalization

The series shown are end-of-calendar-year and end-of-last-month figures, respectively.
